Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

The time may come, sooner than most of us believe, and sooner than anyone can wish, when a large number of men will be enrolled in Uncle Sam's armed services. The great variety of services entailed in modern warfare permits the adjustment of men to the particular job to which he is assigned, and in that respect certainly modern warfare presents an advantage over the older forms, when the armed forces on land consisted of cavalry, artillery and infantry, and on sea, of sailors and marines.

Today it is roughly estimated it requires five men working behind the lines to keep one land soldier fit and ready for battle, and in the air, a competent plane pilot needs twenty men working for him on the ground. In event of war it is quite probable that in the United States, as is now the case in Europe, men able to perform the behind-the-lines services, will be drafted for these duties when ever the need arises. That is to say there will be a shifting of skilled labor to those war industries in localities where such labor is scarce.

It is too early to forecast just what the provisions of a conscription act will be, but that there will be a law enacted of some kind there should be no doubt. One thing we may be sure of. It will provide for sending disciplined and trained men, and some women, both within and outside of the armed forces, to places where they are needed .For instance, we may well forsee that armed forces will be moved to coastal and to some border areas. Those workers of special skills will be required to enroll for service in various industrial centers, most of them a considerable distance from coasts or borders.

This will mean that hundreds of thousands of men will be removed from their homes and thousands of children, most of them of tender years, will be reared for the duration of the enlistment, or of the war, without their fathers. We feel that this is a condition, soon to confront the nation, which should receive the serious attention of our Congressmen while they are in the midst of debating a conscription bill.

Our attention was called to this national need, by an article in a University of California publication briefly summarizing an address by Miss Helen Christianson, before a conference on family relations held on the University of California campus at Los Angeles. Miss Christianson is supervisor of Nursery School Training, and has won a place as a national authority on that subject.

In her address Miss Christianson said: "The United States of the future would profit greatly if some public attention were directed to the forgotten child.

"We know from reliable statisties that there are 16,000,000 children in the United States under six years of age. They represent about 13 per cent of our population. Of these over 5,000,000 are underfed, underclothed, underhoused and undereducated. About 75,000 are in federal nursery schools, and an equal number are attending day nursery and relief nursery kindergarten. A few thousand are enrolled in laboratory nursery schools. Only about one child out of four of eligible age attends a tax-supported kindergarten.

"Surely the first cycle of life has some claim to attention in the community and national planning. We are all greatly concerned today with the question of armament and defense, but in appropriating funds for armament, a far-sighted Congress would do well to make adequate provision for intelligent care of our youngest children. That would be one intelligent way of arming for the future of the country and is certainly a most basic and American way of home defense."

To Miss Christianson's plea, we might well add that it is our conviction that all children should have an opportunity to attend kindergarten schools. This without relation to the removal of thousands of fathers from their homes, whether or not it impends. Anyone who has thought, or observed, or

Blow Death Reason In Wear Case

Coroner's Jury Finds Jerry Wear Death Not Accidental

A coroner's jury Friday night found Jerry Wear, 62, who died in the Nevada County Hospital on June 20th, succumbed as "a result of a fractured skull on or about June 10, caused by a blow."

Since several days after Jerry's death, his brother, Robert, 56, has been held in the county jail on a charge of murder. The brother will go on trial in the superior court here on September 17th for the slaying.

Two Witnesses Testify

The coroner's inquisition was conducted in Grass Valley by Coroner A. M. Holmes. Only two witnesses testified, Dr. Frederick Harry Benteen and Mrs. Julia Irene Markham, 37, purported eyewitness to a fight between the brothers.

Dr. Benteen testified his autopsy revealed Jerry died of a fractured skull, the nature of which was such it could probably only have been caused by a fall against a sharp object, or by a blow from a blunt instrument.

Robert Wear, in denying the killing, said his brother was injured in a fall against a tree.

Saw Brothers Fight

Mrs. Markham testified she was hanging out clothes when she saw Jerry walking down a trail to a spring near the Wear cabin home in the Taylorville district on June 10th. She said Jerry was carrying two jugs. She testified his brother followed him and the two got into an argument, stating she head Jerry say:

"If I'm accused of telling things I'm going to tell them."

Mrs. Markham said then the two began wrestling. She saw Robert grab one of the jugs from his brother and hit him over the head with it, knocking him to the ground.

The witness said Jerry was on the ground three quarters of an hour without aid and the last she saw of him he was crawling up the trail to the cabin. She testified Fred Hill passed the body, looked at it and then went on without stopping to give the injured man aid.

Al Newell was foreman of the coroner's jury.

SUIT CHARGES VIOLATION OF AGREEMENT

Mrs. Catherine Cooper Seeks Judgment From Two Mining Men

Catherine H. Cooper has filed a suit in the superior court seeking to revoke an agreement entered into with William J. Tomkin and William Newson regarding mining property in the Round Mountain district.

The suit charges the defendants failed to comply with the terms of the lease and option to purchase the Mountainside Fort Washington, Golden Poppy and Leonore T. quartz claims. The purchase price was to have been $50,000.

Mrs. Cooper sets forth in the complaint she entered into the agreement with Tomkin in March, 1935, later the latter assigning a portion of the property to Newson.

Attorney Frank Finnegan of this city represents Mrs. Cooper.

KEY SENTENCES IN WILLKIE'S ACCEPTANCE ADDRESS

Proposes Public Debate On Fundamental Issues With President

The Nugget herewith prints some of the key sentences in Wendell L. Willkie's formal address Saturday accepting the Republican presidential nomination:

I propose that during the next two and a half months the president and I appear together on public platforms in various parts of the country to debate the fundamental issues of this campaign.

Mr. Roosevelt has dabbled in inflammatory statements and manufactured panics. The president's attack on foreign powers have been useless and dangerous. He has courted a war for which the country is hopelessly unprepared —and which it emphatically does not want. He has secretly meddled in the affairs of Europe, and he has even unscrupulously encouraged other countries to hope for more help than we are able to give.

As president, I should threaten foreign governments only when our country was threatened by them and when I was ready to act.

I can not ask the American people to put their faith in me without recording my conviction that some form of selective service is the only democratic way in which to secure the trained and competent manpower we need for national defense.

We must admit that the loss of the British fleet would greatly weaken our defense. The Atlantic might be dominated by Germany, a power hostile to our way of life. This would be a calamity for us.

We must face a brutal, perhaps a terrible, fact. Our way of life is in competition with Hitler's way of life. I promise to outdistance Hitler in any contest he chooses in 1940 or after.

I charge that the course of this administration is following will lead us, like France, to the end of the road. I say this course will lead us to economic disintegration and dictatorship.

I am saying to you that we cannot rebuild our American destiny without hardship without sacrifice even without suffering. I am proposing that course to you as a candidate for election by you.

OLD PAPERS BRING BACK MEMORIES OF FORMER DAYS IN NEVADA CITY

It was like turning the pages of the past when Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wood turned up the old carpets in one of their local houses. For underneath the carpets were old newspapers, dating as far back as 1893.

Mrs. Wood was particularly impressed with the various headlines of the 40 year old newspapers. If it were not for the dates and the yellow age of the papers she said a person might well believe he or she were reading papers of a few years back.

A Chronicle headline of March 21, 1902, read:

"Diplomats of Europe Puzzled."

In the same issue there was this headline:

"To Retaliate on Germany,"

A Sacramento Bee headline of September 7, 1899 read:

"Declaration of War Expected."

It was only the Boer War. Years have gone by but the headlines are similar.

An issue of the Chronicle, February 14, 1893, told of the revolution in Hawaii but predicted no danger of a Mongolian invasion.

Daily Transcripts Found

Included in the papers found under the carpets were copies of The Transcript, Nevada City's paper at that time and the Daily Morning Union and Herald.

The Transcript on October 1, 1899 recorded a visit here of the American Institute of Mining Engineers. A highlight of the visit was a tour of the Champion and Providence Mines, then in full operation. The article reads:

"The band was at the depot and everybody was happy. The visitors were taken in carriages to the hotels and assigned to rooms. After an hour's rest all but a few of them who desired to attend church were taken in vehicles to the mines down Deer Creek and spent the remainder of the day at the Providence and Champion Mines, where they were joined in the afternoon by the church-goers. They were shown the mills, chlorination works, etc. above ground; were taken down into and through the underground workings. At each of these two mines there were tables spread with a bountiful supply of choice eatables that were served by the Native Daughters of Laurel Parlor. Champagne and other wines of the best vintage were there in abundance. The managers and the employes of the mines were all most obliging and thoughtful. Hundreds of our own citizens visited the mines also and were made equally welcome with the guests from abroad.

"At the Champion the cars that carried the guests up and down in the double compartment shaft were fitted with seats and covered with white cheesecloth. Fourteen hundred lighted candles illuminated the shaft to the 2100 level, also the drifts which had been planked and were with the incline so dry and clean that ladies and gentlemen went down into and through the mine in their Sunday clothes and emerged in spick and span condition. In the Champion office a $32,000 gold bar was on exhibition and some $18,000 more of the precious metal was in solution in the chlorination works. At the Providence the most faultless arrangements had likewise been made for the entertainment and instruction of the visitors and there were on ex-

Pioneer Resident Of This City Succumbs Friday In Capitol

Funeral services were held here this morning under the direction of the Holmes Funeral Home for Mrs. Ida Theresa Rafter, 86, pioneer Nevada City resident, who died Friday night in the Sisters Hospital in Sacramento. Mrs. Rafter was a member of Laurel Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, of Nevada City.

JUDGE WARNS AGAINST FIRE TRUCK CHASING

Dismiss Cases Against Two Volunteer Firemen, However

The cases of Carl Ivey and Robert Tamblyn, given tickets for having their cars within a block of the Trewella house fire last week, were dismissed Saturday by City Judge Miles D. Coughlin. Norman Kopp, the third cited by the police for the ordinance violation, was fined $1.

It developed when Ivey and Tamblyn appeared before Judge Coughlin they are both volunteer firemen. It was Tamblyn who drove Fire Chief Luther Marsh to the fire.

"The ordinance applies to all drivers but it is difficult to fine an unpaid fireman who is only trying to help someone who is in trouble," Judge Coughlin stated. "The ones who block the streets are those who rush to the fire as they might to a street fight just to see the excitement."

Notice Given

"The chief of police has given plenty of notice that he will enforce this ordinance. I have dismissed the cases against Tamblyn and Ivey and have fined the other driver the nominal sum of $1 for the reason that they happened to be the first ones tagged under the promised enforcement.

"It will be the policy of this court hereafter to impose a larger fine upon those who obstruct traffic at the time of a fire and these proceedings may be taken as an indication that the chief of police means what he says.

"I believe the firemen realize the need for an open street, not only at the scene of the fire but through the avenues of approach and exit to and from a fire and I will cooperate with the police department to every extent possible. Simply curious people can just as well stay away from fires as they have no business there."

WILL ADVERTISE CHAMBER

Wherever H. F. Sofge, chamber of commerce secretary, goes he will advertise Nevada City's booster organization. Sofge Saturday had two Nevada City Chamber of Commerce signs placed on his automobile.

Fire Burns Ed Phillips Home Here

Flames Destroy House Before Owner Can Save Contents

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the home of Ed Phillips, trucking contractor, in Gold Flat this morning.

Both the city fire trucks and the State Division of Forestry trucks were called to the scene. The house was all but a mass of smoldering ashes when the firemen arrived.

Nothing in the house, equipped with many electrical appliances and valuable furniture, was saved. The total loss was estimated at $2,500, of which $1,000 was furniture and $1,500 the house itself. It was reported Phillips had $1,000 of insurance on the home.

Phillips told the firemen he was away from the house when the fire started. He could not offer any reason for the blaze stating there was no fire in the stove at the time,

The burning of his home was the second blow of misfortune received by Phillips in recent months. The first was the death of his wife recently during the birth of a child.

'Interne' Is Exposed As Mere Orderly Following Arrest

The Nugget was in error Friday when it printed Charles Czoberek, 25, held in the county jail on a charge of attempted rape, was an interne at the Nevada County Hospital. That was only Czoberek's boast.

When taken into custody on the attempted rape offense, Czoberek told the officers he was the interne at the county hospital. It was announced by Superintendent Richard Rodda, however, that Czoberek was nothing but an orderly at the hospital. Incidentally, Czoberek was fired immediately after his arrest.

Following Czoberek's arrest many reports came to light regarding his efforts to impress girls at dances. At first Czoberek boasted he was a physician. That, apparently, failed to make any impression on girls of intelligence in this district as they know nearly all the physicians in the area. Then Czoberek switched his title to interne at the county hospital.

Call For Interne

Superintendent Rodda recounts in answering the telephone one day recently, a woman's voice inquired to speak to the "interne." When Rodda said there was no interne at the hospital she said there must be some mistake. Finally she recalled the "interne's" name was Charlie.

"I told her the only employee at the hospital by that name was an orderly and a very poor one at that," Rodda stated.

Both Charles Czoberek and his brother, Steve, 23, who is charged with rape, are accused of molesting an 18 years old Nevada City girl, whom they met at a dance.

CHARGES DISMISSED AGAINST THREE ACCUSED OF BURGLARY

Three You Bet district youths, arrested in Sutter County on suspicion of burglarizing the Mike Murphy home in You Bet, were set free in the juvenile court here Friday by Superior Judge George L. Jones.

The charges against the three, William Wolfe, 18, Wallace Wolfe, 15, his brother, and Charles Kunz, 17, were dismissed because of lack of evidence.

Murphy, principal witness against the youths could not positively identify them as the burglars. In dismissing the three from custody, Judge Jones requested Probation Officer A. W. McGagin to conduct an investigation into the possibility of making them wards of the juvenile court for their own good.

The three were defended by Attorney Harry McKee. District Attorney Vernon Stoll appeared for the prosecution.

Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow

A few Democrats may feel badly that President Roosevelt looks "affectionately" yet unkindly upon Hiram Johnson, and that the senator, replying, has had a few words to say about the President. But these are not many.

Senator Johnson's "declaration of independence"—for that is all it i —is no anti-Democratic statement, and anyone who knows the record of the veteran statesman knows that this is true.

Hiram Johnson simply is no party's man, but rather one of those rare men in public life yho lives and acts by con science alone.

Democrats should remember that they took great glee when the Senator more than once parted company with Republican Herbert Hoover; should remember this historic utterence of Johnson's before the Senate on June 11, 1929.

"I realize that there are some who, whenever the party lash is applied, crawl to the one who lashes them.

"I had 'rather be a toad and live upon the vapor of a dungeon' than sit in this body, or in any other body, and take orders upon a question of conscience from any man on earth. no matter how exalted his position.

"I stand by the President when I believe him to be right but when I believe him to be wrong I part with him and I go my own way, and I go my own way with full knowledge of what the consequences may be."

That was yesterday. Today Hiram Johnson simply re iterates this time to a Democratic president:

"The people of California would not highly regard me and I would be without self-respect were I a mere 'yes' man. I never have been and I never will be."

That pleases Californians, very, very much.—Contributed.

The French Hysteria

Poor lady Marianne, the personification of France, must be in the extreme of hysteria as well as natural sadness. The coming trials of various men to establish "guilt" for cause of the war, for losing the war, for lack of preparedness, are indefensible in common sense. The national disregard of Communist infiltration, easy-going tolerance of socialistic squandering of the nation's wealth, and blindness to the rise of German might—all those things added up to national suicide. An autopsy of a whole nation may be in order—but not a trial of a handful of men, however wilful or stupid they might have been. Historically, the French are an exceptionally logical people. In time that logic will reassert itself and stabilize the national life. Meanwhile it would be unjust as well as unkind to criticize the French too severely for current behavior that is so patently a thing of hysteria.—Contributed.

studied the subject of education will agree that the first six years of a child's life from a character-forming standpoint are most important.

We do not believe, as Miss Christianson seems to advocate, that the Federal Government should undertake the establishment of kindergartens. The Federal Government should emphasize the need of kindergartens and provide a program and pattern for such schools. Primarily we regard it as a matter that local school boards should undertake at the demand of their communities.

MASKED BANDIT INVADES HOME, ESCAPES WITH $15

Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen is investigating a report from Julius Mazzanti, resident of the Alta Hill section, that he was robbed of $15 by a masked bandit at his home last week. Mazzanti reported the robbery Friday morning.

He told the sheriff he awakened to see the masked bandit in his bedroom with a revolver in his hand. The bandit told Mazzanti to give him his wallet. The victim said after the robber took the money from the wallet he threw it down and ordered Mazzanti to be quiet for at least 15 minutes or he would come back and kill him. Mazzanti did not report the incident until 24 hours later.

WEEK OF TIME SAVED BY AIRPLANE PHOTOS

Airplane photo prints recently proved valuable in securing rights of way for the Bear Valley-Bowman Lake Road according to Tahoe forest officials. Ordinarily a survey would have been made in order to determine legal description of the land crossed. In this instance though several section corners had been located and "pin pricked" on the print covering the land in question. From these subdivisions were platted and compared with the ownership status record in the Nevada City office in order to deteremine owners of the land who would have to be contacted for rights of way. Forest officers estimate that this saved approximately a week of official time.

MINERS DEFEAT YUBA CITY BEARS IN WILD SLUGGING BALL CONTEST

League Leaders Score 16 Runs In Three Big Innings To Win After Spotting Visitors Five Runs In First

The Grass Valley Miners yesterday moved another step forward in their drive for the second half Sacramento Valley League title by downing the Yuba City Bears 18 to 5 in a wild slugfest at Watt Park in Grass Valley. The winner got a total of 26 hits.

The Miners cause looked hopeless after Yuba City batted all the way round in the first inning to score five runs but the powerful Grass Valley sluggers went into action in the third inning to push the tying and leading runs across the platter.

The Grass Valleyans scored one in the first inning, five times in the third, five times in the fourth, six times in the seventh and once in the eighth.

Settles Down

After the bad first inning, Manager Archie Campbell of the Miners, who also does the chucking for his team, held the visitors well in check.

Grass Valley's first tally came when Marz Dutra went to second on Cliff Perry's overthrow to firstbase of his ground ball, advanced to third on an infield out and then scored on Vernon Madan's long fly.

In the third inning the Miners scored five runs after two were out. Dutra singled to open the inning and was advanced to second by George Cooer's bunt. Madan again flew out to centerfield but Dick Hoskins doubled to score Dutra. Syl Gregory singled Hoskins home and advanced to second on the throwing. Ned Fusaro singled to score Gregory, also going to second on the play at the plate Charles Lamphier pumped a hit through the infield to count Fusaro later scoring on wild throws. Ken Brock walked but Campbell ended the inning by striking out.

Score Five More

In the fourth frame, the Miners again counted five runs after two batters were retired. Dutra popped to the catcher for the first out. Cooper singled. Madan also fouled out to the catcher. Hoskins then got his second consecutive double to score Cooper. Gregory singled to score Hoskins and Fusaro. Lamphier, Brock and Campbell each hit bingles, scoring three more tallies. The inning ended with Dutra flying out to rightfield, the second time he was retired in the inning.

In the seventh Dutra singled to open the inning. Cooper hit safely, Madan flew out, Hoskins got his fourth hit, Gregory singled, Fusaro singled, Lamphier walked, Brock singled, Campbell singled, Dutra singled for his second hit of the inning and Cooper then hit his second safe blow of the inning. Dutra was thrown out at third, however, Madan ended the frame by forcing Cooper at second.

Grass Valley's final run came in the eighth when Hoskins walked and scored on Gregory's two base blow.

The game was witnessed by a large crowd of Nevada City and Grass Valley baseball fans.

Other League Games

In the other two Sacramento Valley League games both Chico and Redding, who are trailing the Miners by one game, won. The Grass Valley nine can win the title by defeating Redding Sunday in the final game of the season. Chico downed Marysville 7 to 1 and Redding trounced Woodland 7 to 2.

Yesterday's score of the Grass Valley game:

	R.	H.	E.
Grass Valley	18	26	1
Yuba City	5	9	4

Batteries: Campbell and Brock; Newman, Herlitz and Roberts.

OLD PAPERS

hibition many thousands of dollars worth of gold in all the stages of treatment, as well as great bodies of rich ore in place and tons upon tons in the bins."

In olden days The Transcript as well as many other newspapers devoted the entire front page to advertising. The news was on the back pages. Included among the news items were these following tid-bits:

"George Richardson, the undertaker, has an up-to-date and handsome new dead-wagon. Mr. Richardson believes in having the latest and best of everything in his line of business."

"Complaint is made that residents of houses that have been quarantined because members of the families have scarlet fever or diptheria are disregarding the instructions of Health Officer Murchie and the physicians and are going about town. Arrests are threatened."

In 1899 The Transcript was published by N. P. Brown and L. S. Calkins. A decided change is noted in the paper in 1904. No longer does the front page consist of advertising only. There is quite a bit of news and even a picture of Vladivostok on the front page. Brown's name was still on the masthead, but Calkins had left.

Among the news articles in the April 4, 1904 Transcript are:

"FINE NUGGETS"

"P. G. Scadden returned last evening from North Boomfield and Relief Hill and brought down a number of rich gold nuggets for the St. Louis Fair exhibit. Among the collection is one from Henry Frye's gravel mine valued at $550. It is a very handsome nugget and resembles a plate in shape."

"TO HIS NATIVE HEATH"

Emil J. Ott, son of J. J. Ott, the well known assayer, arrived here from Alaska last evening on a visit. His family remained over with relatives at Sacramento but intend to come to this city next Wednesday. Emil and his family journeyed over the Oregon division from Portland and were just a train ahead of the one held up last week. It happened, though, that he had quite a sum of money in the car that was dynamited, which amount, of course, will be made good by the express company."

Both Ott and Scadden are still prominent residents of this community.

Armory Hall Popular

Almost every issue of the local paper told of receptions, dances, or other functions in the Armory Hall, which was recently torn down to make way for a new business building.

One of the most elaborate functions ever to be held in the Armory Hall was the farewell reception tendered Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zeitler in 1902. Zeitler was an official of the Champion Mine. Fred Searls presided as chairman of the evening.

The issue of the Daily Morning Union and Herald of April 13, 1902 carried two personals which are as interesting today as they were then. The personals are:

"Ed Uren returned on last evening's train, after a trip to Placer County."

"George L. Jones left yesterday for a visit to Dutch Flat and Truckee. His mission is official business concerning the Native Sons, of which order he is a grand trustee."

The couple left on a honeymoon trip to San Francisco shortly after their returning here from Reno. They will make their home in a newly constructed house at Town Talk following their honeymoon journey.

Mrs. Frost is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coleman of Weatherford, Oklahoma, where she graduated from high school and attended college.

The bride, attired in an attractive blue informal outfit, was attended by her close friend, Miss Faydean White. Walter Hooker, brother of the bridegroom, acted as the best man.

The wedding was performed before a large group of friends and relatives of the couple. With horns blowing and tin cans rattling, the wedding group made a tour through the streets of Grass Valley and Nevada City following the ceremony.

FINAL PROGRAM FOR COMMUNITY TONIGHT AT PARK

Summer Recreation Project Reaches Completion This Week

Nevada City's 1940 Summer Recreation program will have its last public program tonight at Seaman Lodge in Pioneer Park, bringing to a close the most successful project since the Recreational Project activities were started in 1939. It will close Friday, August 23rd.

Sponsored by the Nevada City Co-Ordinating Council, the project this year has provided entertainment and useful recreation for an average daily attendance of 80 youngsters ranging from the "tiny" tot age to those past high school age.

Edward A. Frantz, Director of Boys' Athletics at the Nevada City High School has successfully acted as the director this year. His enthusiasm and experience for the work has not only been appreciated by the officers and members of the Co-Ordinating Council but by the parents of the community as well.

Sponsored by Donations

The project was sponsored through the donations from various interested organizations—this year totaling $400. Last year's donations reached $500 but due to the world situation and other drives, the council decided to do the best they could with what they had. The City Council donated $250.

A general meeting of the Co-Ordinating Council will be held next Wednesday at 4 p. m. at the City Hall to hear final reports from director Edward A. Frantz and Secretary Fred C. Garrison.

Volunteer instructors have been one of the main causes for the program's success Mrs. Pat Jackson has acted as assistant director. Other teachers who have donated their time with absolutely no compensation include the following: Mrs. D. S. Bonebrake, Mrs. Mabel Flindt, Miss Bonnie Flindt, Bill Wagner, and others.

NOTED SINGER WILL BE HEARD SUNDAY

The Rev. David Ralston, pastor of the Methodist church, announces that next Sunday morning, the soloist for the services will be Mr. Ernest Crase of Santa Rosa. Mr. Crase has been widely acclaimed one of the talented singers of California.

REOPENING OF BOWMAN ROUTE AGAIN DELAYED

Due to unexpected difficulties, the Tahoe National Forest Service announced here the Graniteville-Lake Bowman road, scheduled to be reopened August 15th after a shut down of a week for the reconstruction of the Poorman Bridge, will not be open until the middle or latter part of this week.

The forest service said the public will be advised when the route is finally opened to traffic.

In the meantime, Bowman travellers are requested to take the Gaston Grade route through Washington, inasmuch as reconstruction work is also in progress on the Bear Valley-Bowman Lake road. Clyde Gwin, forest official, said he was over the Gaston route last week and it is in good condition for a mountain road. The forest service has done some work on the road this year.

Leonard (Pop) Johnson, former local police officer now employed at Mare Island, visited with friends and relatives here yesterday.
